

Stacey Davis

Baltimore, MD 21214

No child in the US should be working in a classroom that does not have robust and deep wireless connectivity. If we truly want to ensure that our children grow to be globally competitive, we must start connecting them globally at a young age. Not only should eRate be improved, it should be increased!